Insecure CORS configuration

Severity	High
Reported by module	Scripting (CORS_Audit.script)

Description

CORS (Cross-Origin Resource Sharing) defines a mechanism to enable client-side cross-origin requests. This application is using CORS in an insecure way. The web application returns the following headers:

- Access-Control-Allow-Credentials: true
- · Access-Control-Allow-Origin: copy of the Origin header from request

In this configuration any website can issue requests made with user credentials and read the responses to these requests.

Impact

Any website can issue requests made with user credentials and read the responses to these requests.

Recommendation

Allow only selected, trusted domains in the Access-Control-Allow-Origin header.

HTML form without CSRF protection

Severity	Medium
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

This alert requires manual confirmation

Cross-Site Request Forgery (CSRF, or XSRF) is a vulnerability wherein an attacker tricks a victim into making a request the victim did not intend to make. Therefore, with CSRF, an attacker abuses the trust a web application has with a victim's browser.

Acunetix found an HTML form with no apparent anti-CSRF protection implemented. Consult the 'Attack details' section for more information about the affected HTML form.

Impact

An attacker could use CSRF to trick a victim into accessing a website hosted by the attacker, or clicking a URL containing malicious or unauthorized requests.

CSRF is a type of 'confused deputy' attack which leverages the authentication and authorization of the victim when the forged request is being sent to the web server. Therefore, if a CSRF vulnerability could affect highly privileged users such as administrators full application compromise may be possible.

Recommendation

Verify if this form requires anti-CSRF protection and implement CSRF countermeasures if necessary.

The recommended and the most widely used technique for preventing CSRF attacks is know as an anti-CSRF token, also sometimes referred to as a synchronizer token. The characteristics of a well designed anti-CSRF system involve the following attributes.

- The anti-CSRF token should be unique for each user session
- The session should automatically expire after a suitable amount of time
- The anti-CSRF token should be a cryptographically random value of significant length
- The anti-CSRF token should be cryptographically secure, that is, generated by a strong Pseudo-Random Number Generator (PRNG) algorithm
- The anti-CSRF token is added as a hidden field for forms, or within URLs (only necessary if GET requests cause state changes, that is, GET requests are not idempotent)
- The server should reject the requested action if the anti-CSRF token fails validation

When a user submits a form or makes some other authenticated request that requires a Cookie, the anti-CSRF token should be included in the request. Then, the web application will then verify the existence and correctness of this token before processing the request. If the token is missing or incorrect, the request can be rejected.

Same site scripting

Severity	Medium
Reported by module	Scripting (Same_Site_Scripting.script)

Description

Tavis Ormandy reported a common DNS misconfiguration that can result in a minor security issue with web applications.

"It's a common and sensible practice to install records of the form "localhost. IN A 127.0.0.1" into nameserver configurations, bizarrely however, administrators often mistakenly drop the trailing dot, introducing an interesting variation of Cross-Site Scripting (XSS) I call Same-Site Scripting. The missing dot indicates that the record is not fully qualified, and thus queries of the form "localhost.example.com" are resolved. While superficially this may appear to be harmless, it does in fact allow an attacker to cheat the RFC2109 (HTTP State Management Mechanism) same origin restrictions, and therefore hijack state management data."

Impact

An attacker can cheat the RFC2109 (HTTP State Management Mechanism) same origin restrictions, and therefore hijack state management data.

Recommendation

It is advised that non-FQ localhost entries be removed from nameserver configurations for domains that host websites that rely on HTTP state management.

Clickjacking: X-Frame-Options header missing

Severity	Low
Reported by module	Scripting (Clickjacking_X_Frame_Options.script)

Description

Clickjacking (User Interface redress attack, UI redress attack, UI redressing) is a malicious technique of tricking a Web user into clicking on something different from what the user perceives they are clicking on, thus potentially revealing confidential information or taking control of their computer while clicking on seemingly innocuous web pages.

The server didn't return an X-Frame-Options header which means that this website could be at risk of a clickjacking attack. The X-Frame-Options HTTP response header can be used to indicate whether or not a browser should be allowed to render a page inside a frame or iframe. Sites can use this to avoid clickjacking attacks, by ensuring that their content is not embedded into other sites.

Impact

The impact depends on the affected web application.

Recommendation

Configure your web server to include an X-Frame-Options header. Consult Web references for more information about the possible values for this header.

O Cookie(s) without HttpOnly flag set

Severity	Low
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

This cookie does not have the HTTPOnly flag set. When a cookie is set with the HTTPOnly flag, it instructs the browser that the cookie can only be accessed by the server and not by client-side scripts. This is an important security protection for session cookies.

Impact

None

Recommendation

If possible, you should set the HTTPOnly flag for this cookie.

Documentation file

Severity	Low
Reported by module	Scripting (Readme_Files.script)

Description

A documentation file (e.g. readme.txt, changelog.txt, ...) was found in this directory. The information contained in these files could help an attacker identify the web application you are using and sometimes the version of the application. It's recommended to remove these files from production systems.

Impact

These files may disclose sensitive information. This information can be used to launch further attacks.

Recommendation

Remove or restrict access to all documentation file acessible from internet.

Possible sensitive directories

Severity	Low
Reported by module	Scripting (Possible_Sensitive_Directories.script)

Description

A possible sensitive directory has been found. This directory is not directly linked from the website. This check looks for common sensitive resources like backup directories, database dumps, administration pages, temporary directories. Each one of these directories could help an attacker to learn more about his target.

Impact

This directory may expose sensitive information that could help a malicious user to prepare more advanced attacks.

Recommendation

Restrict access to this directory or remove it from the website.

Possible virtual host found

Severity	Low
Reported by module	Scripting (VirtualHost_Audit.script)

Description

Virtual hosting is a method for hosting multiple domain names (with separate handling of each name) on a single server (or pool of servers). This allows one server to share its resources, such as memory and processor cycles, without requiring all services provided to use the same host name.

This web server is responding differently when the Host header is manipulated and various common virtual hosts are tested. This could indicate there is a Virtual Host present.

Impact

Possible sensitive information disclosure.

Recommendation

Consult the virtual host configuration and check if this virtual host should be publicly accessible.

WordPress admin accessible without HTTP authentication

Severity	Low
Reported by module	Scripting (wordpress_18.script)

Description

It's recommended to restrict access to the WordPress administration dashboard using HTTP authentication. Password protecting your WordPress admin dashboard through a layer of HTTP authentication is an effective measure to thwart attackers attempting to guess user's passwords. Additionally, if attackers manage to steal a user's password, they will need to get past HTTP authentication in order to gain access to WordPress login form.

Impact

No impact is associated with this vulnerability.

Recommendation

Add server-side password protection (such as BasicAuth) to the /wp-admin/ directory. Consult web references for more information.

Password type input with auto-complete enabled

Severity	Informational
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

When a new name and password is entered in a form and the form is submitted, the browser asks if the password should be saved. Thereafter when the form is displayed, the name and password are filled in automatically or are completed as the name is entered. An attacker with local access could obtain the cleartext password from the browser cache.

Impact

Possible sensitive information disclosure.

Recommendation

The password auto-complete should be disabled in sensitive applications. To disable auto-complete, you may use a code similar to:
